REBOTL™

REUSE. RECYCLE. RETHINK. REBOTL.

ReBOTL™ material contains at least 50% recycled plastic. Around the world, the use of plastic water bottles is on the rise. And as a result, so are the trash heaps. But thanks to some forward-thinking people, billions of bottles across the globe are collected, recycled and turned into durable RPET yarns (that's Recycled Polyethylene Terephthalate, to get scientific) that we then use to make products. This process is great for business and supports jobs, too.

- + Non-biodegradable PET plastic bottles are collected, shredded and recycled into material
- + This material is used in footwear uppers and linings; and bag and outerwear shells and linings
- + Material contains at least 50% recycled PET
- + So far, over 445 metric tons of plastic waste has found new life in our products: in 2018 alone, over 45 metric tons.
